the reins of government to any man who, in his opinion, will work for the cause of peace and prosperity in Mexico. Under no circumstances, however, will he retire without knowing and approving the man who is to take his place.

Those who are best in a position to know declared to-night that the form of succession would be in complete accordance with the Mexican Constitution. The mediators, it is felt, would never sanction the installation of a new Government for the southern republic which would owe its power to a violation of the fundamental law of the country. An agreement reached in this manner would not be a guarantee of ruture peace in Mexico.

the head of the Government, the Constitution provides that in the absence of a duly elected Vice-President his successor shall be the Minister of Foreign Affairs. It is therefore essential that the man selected at this conference be appointed Minister of Foreign Affairs by Gen. Hueria. This, it was declared here to-night, will be the manner in which the transfer of power will take place.

Another full conference will be held to-morrow afternoon. At this meeting the names of possible candidates for the provisional Presidency will be discussed for the first time in earnest. It is freely predicted here to-night that if the Washington Administration continues to assist the mediators in their work the proceedings will be ended within a week.

It was rumored, however, to-night that the Washington Government, although willing to abandon Carranza !! necessary, is seriously considering lending its support to another prominent Constitutionalist. Secretary Bryan admitted to-day that the first big point in the mediation programme had been agreed upon—the method of transferring power from Huerta to his successor. Mr. Bryan declined to go into details, but it is under-stood here that the method agreed upon is not the one provided by the Mexican constitution upon which Huerta originally insisted.

In the settlement of this point the influence of the Constitutionalists as exerted through the United States is again plainly in evidence. Carranza and his followers have insisted that they never will consent to the setting up of a provisional govern-ment through the appointment by Huerta of a Minister of Foreign Affairs selected by the mediation conference who would

There was, however, no certainty that Carranza would be admitted to the conferences, although Mr. Bryan refused to believe that the action of the mediators yesterday precludes the possibility of participation by the Constitutionalists. At the White House also a statement was made that the progress of mediation was 'very encouraging."

Carranza's note to the mediators was mailed by his representatives at Washington at 7 o'clock this morning and ought to be in the hands of the A B C diplomats now. In the note Carranza announces that he will send to Niagara Fails three delegates empowered to act for him and to enter into the proceedings.

There is no reference in the note to any willingness on the part of Carranza to enter into any armistice. His agents here contended that the First Chief will never agree to a suspension of hostilities and that if he enters the Niagara Fails proceedings it must be without any condition of this sort.

WASHINGTON, June 12 .- William Trav. ers Jerome filed a brief to-day with the Supreme Court opposing the application of Harry K. Thaw for his release on ball The court will pass on the application on Monday. Thaw's case is before the court on a writ of habeas corpus filed in his behalf.

The understanding here before the arrival of Mr. Jerome was that an agree ment would be reached whereby Thaw would be permitted to go to Pittsburg in the custody of a United States mar shal to testify in a suit affecting his father's estate. This plan was called off, though, after Mr. Jerome had talked with ex-Gov.
